President's Message October 2015

By Harvey Gerwig

We have all seen the continued mass shootings in the news over the last couple of months. Is it the guns doing the killing or is it the deranged mind of mentally ill individuals? We all know that more gun laws that further restrict the rights of law abiding citizens will not stop the shootings, so what will? Let's start with the most logical direction I can think of: MENTAL HEALTH. If the anti-gun crowd put half of the energy they expend on attempting to eliminate our Second Amendment into a real solution, such as improving the mental health services available to affected persons, we would have far less violent crime committed by those who could have been helped by trained professionals.

I think I would be safe to say that the families of those committing these horrendous crimes knew that there was something very wrong with their family members way prior to the killing events. The families should be encouraged to seek help for their family members that are heading down the wrong roads and the government needs to step up and help those families to do the right thing. If family members see that one of their members is diverging into dangerous behavior and attitudes, the firearms in the house should be removed or locked away so there is absolutely NO ACCESS to them. If the firearms are in the sole possession of the affected family member, then a restraining order can be solicited from the courts to keep the person away from the family and have the firearms confiscated until the mental health system can bring the person back to a safe, stable state of mind. Families must get directly involved in this problem and do the hard work toward a solution, or we will continue to see these murders continue across our beautiful country.

President's Message

I know that some of the above sounds like pie in the sky and that the mental health system is severely overburdened, but the mental health approach is the only solution with a prayer of stemming this epidemic of violence. Government must step up and bolster the mental health system, instead of spending millions of dollars trying to take away the guns from its law abiding citizens.

Please provide me with your feedback on ways to accomplish this goal. We have some major elections coming up and this topic needs to be on the top of the list for discussion will all major candidates. Let's put their feet to the fire and get some action.

On a much more enjoyable note, your HRA officers, Board Members and Instructors worked tirelessly to put on the HRA .22 rifle and pistol venue at the DLNR Hunting and Fishing Days event at Kokohead Shooting Complex a few weeks ago. We provided both rifles and pistols for the public to try out with the assistance of NRA Certified Instructors at all shooting positions. Remarkably, not a single firearm jumped up and started shooting at people. Thank you to all the HRA folks who worked so hard to put on a fun, safe event for the public to enjoy.

We have a wonderful and rare opportunity coming up very shortly, we have an opportunity to support one of our own Island boys for a position on the NRA Board of Directors. Mr. Willes Lee has been selected to run for the Board in the upcoming NRA election cycle. We need to fully support Willes so he can convey the issues in Hawaii to the national Board and work for our values here in Hawaii. Please see my article on the election in another section of this Newsletter.

More great news: The annual Friends of NRA Banquet in November has totally sold out as of last week. If you haven't attended this Banquet you should certainly get on board early next year and come join us for the fun, friendship, guns and fundraising for the Hawaii High School shooting programs that this event supports. I will give you a heads up early next year that the tickets are on sale. HRA is a top sponsor again this year and has populated six tables of ten for a record setting sixty seats.

The October Gun Show was a good one again this year with lots of great displays, gun dealers and private sellers. There were lots of good buys and tons of fellowship during the two day event. Thank you to Hawaii Historic Arms for another good show. The next Gun Show is in March of 2016.

Aloha and good shooting.

Harvey

Gun Rights Advocate Willes K. Lee Makes History as First Nominee to NRA Board of Directors From Hawaii

Following HIRA National Director Willes Lee's election as Executive Vice President of the National Federation of Republican Assemblies (NFRA), Lee puts Hawaii on the map yet again.

A Life member of the National Rifle Association of America (NRA) and member of the Hawaii Rifle Association (HRA), Willes K. Lee makes history as the first from Hawaii nominated to serve on the NRA's Board of Directors. The NRA Board and leadership, including President Allan Cors and Executive Vice President Wayne LaPierre, oversees the NRA's overall direction.

Lee was informed that he is "nominated by the National Rifle Association's Nominating Committee for election to the NRA Board of Directors," based on his exemplary work as a tireless protector of 2nd Amendment rights in Hawaii and across the nation. "I am honored and humbled to be nominated. I will continue the valuable tradition of the NRA and will continue to elect legislators to secure our Second Amendment rights," Lee stated.

The married father of two daughters, Lee is a retired U.S. Army officer having served our nation for twenty-two years as an Airborne-Ranger Armor officer following his graduation from West Point. Lee's service included five years with the Joint Chiefs of Staff in the Pentagon. He is a recipient of the Defense Superior Service Medal for contributions to national operations, the Bronze Star Medal for Desert Storm combat performance with the 24th Infantry Division, and the Legion of Merit for combating terrorism in Europe.

Willes Lee

Lee's commitment to gun rights is unrivaled in the islands and his activism nationally displays his worthiness as a national candidate to the NRA board. Presently, Lee serves on the NRA's Military and Veterans Affairs Committee. He supports three NRA charitable organizations: the NRA Foundation, Civil Rights Defense Fund and Special Contribution Fund. Previously, Lee served on the NRA's Urban Affairs Committee, charged with increasing NRA membership among minorities. Lee is also a member of the Second Amendment Foundation which provides valuable 2nd Amendment education while participating in gun rights litigation.

For many years, Lee has worked closely with the Hawaii Rifle Association to protect member rights, fight anti-gun bills and help passage of pro-gun legislation. In pursuit of these goals, Lee has worked to elect pro-gun legislators and participated in range visits by state and local government officials.

Over the years, Lee has worked with Hawaii's gun community to promote the shooting sports and to strengthen the youth shooting opportunities. Indeed, Lee has been fully responsible for Hawaii visits by NRA Presidents David Keane and Jim Porter to headline Hawaii events, including our FNRA Banquets which support and enhance youth shooting sports education.

In presenting the endorsements of the Hawaii Rifle Association and the Hawaii Friends of NRA, HRA President Harvey F. Gerwig called Lee "a man who will energetically and enthusiastically represent the NRA and it's goals to the fullest of his abilities." FNRA's Dawn Horn writes Willes is "a personal example of the highest standards of individual character and conduct."

If elected to the NRA board, the wide-ranging wealth of experience Lee brings to the table is formidable. Lee's primary focus is on political action from coast to coast; through the election of pro-gun candidates at all levels of government, while working to defeat local, state and national anti-gun legislation. Recent campaigns brought Lee to Virginia, New Mexico, Delaware and home to Hawaii.

Willes K. Lee

Lee's past roles as a member of the Republican National Committee (RNC) and as Chairman of the Hawaii Republican Party make him comfortable and adept at working in political circles to advance the interests of gun owners while fighting legislative attempts to undermine our rights.

Presently, Lee advocates 2nd Amendment rights as Executive Vice President of the National Federation of Republican Assemblies (NFRA), National Director of the Hawaii Republican Assembly (HIRA), and on the board of directors for the American Conservative Union (ACU) Foundation which hosts the annual, high profile CPAC conferences.

The election is next spring through ballots sent by the NRA to life members and consecutive five-year members. If elected to fill one of the open 25 seats, Lee will serve with 75 others on the national board. Only 31 nominees nationally were selected from among 60 highly qualified prospects, of which 54 were eligible Life members. Among the nominees are the current incumbents including Oliver North,

Ted Nugent, Karl Malone and former NRA Presidents Sandy Froman, David Keene and Jim Porter.

Willes K. Lee is grateful for the support and the endorsements of HRA and HFNRA. He looks forward to supporting the NRA's advocacy of our constitutional right to bear arms throughout all fifty states.

Willes Lee with former NRA President David Keene

A Chance for Hawaii to Make History

For the first time in the history of Hawaii we have the opportunity to elect a Hawaii citizen to the National Rifle Association's Board of Directors in 2016. Please join me in supporting Mr. Willes Lee for that history making position. As President of the Hawaii Rifle Association I have had the privilege of working with Willes for many years now on the political front and in the fundraising efforts of the Friends of NRA, where we help to raise many thousands of dollars to support the Hawaii High School shooting programs. He is a tireless advocate for our causes and I ask you to fully support him and cast your vote for him in the coming election.

Thank you,

Harvey Gerwig

2015 National Hunting & Fishing Day

The Hawaii Hunter Education Program hosted the annual Hawaii National Hunting and Fishing Day (NHFD) at the Koko Head Shooting Complex on September 19-20, 2015. Two thousand and fifteen was a special year for this event, marking the 25th year that Hawaii has celebrated this event!

Planning for the event started well in advance, but NHFD snuck up on us—sort of like this fall season. Although all possible preparations, contingencies, and contacts were completed well before the eve of NHFD, we couldn't help but feel that there were some looming loose ends.

In spite of competing with the Rainbow Warriors football game, the Waikiki Ho'olaulea, and the Comic Con Convention, attendance was more than doubled at this year's event compared with last year. The total weekend attendance for the 2015 NHFD was 780 participants!

Canned goods and monetary donations were also up from last year. Keep in mind that it takes approximately 1.2 pounds of canned food for one meal, which means that with the 1,114 pounds of canned food we collected alone, we are able to provide approximately 930 meals to Hawaii's hungry. This was a fantastic result, in addition to the $2,991.00 collected.

On another positive note, our event—and more importantly, what we do and why we do it—received great news coverage leading up to the event on KITV4, KHON, and KGMB. KITV4 also showed up on Sunday to cover part of the event. Hopefully, this brings awareness for next year's event!

Once again, National Hunting and Fishing Day in Hawaii would not be possible without your support and the support of the many other volunteers from each of your organizations. We hope to continue with an increase in attendance, donations, and publicity at next year's event. Though this is only an annual event on Oahu, we cannot forget that in the bigger picture, over 700 people received hands-on, interactive instruction in the shooting and fishing sports—many of whom were youth. Furthermore, this event, like many similar ones, gave hunting, shooting, and fishing clubs a chance to come together to show our passions for our sports, recognize the contributions of hunters, target shooters, and anglers toward wildlife and sport fish restoration programs and conservation efforts nationwide, and to take aim at eliminating hunger in Hawaii by supporting the Hawaii Food Bank.

We would like to extend a special Mahalo to all of the organizations and volunteers for your role in eliminating hunger in Hawaii and educating resource users to become responsible, safety conscious, and conservation-minded!

WHAT'S THE LAW?

By Darryl Choy

TOPIC: Straw Buyer

Question: I attended the March Gun Show with a good friend. I had my long gun permit, but my friend's permit had expired and he did not renew in time due to the long lines at HPD. At the Show, my friend saw a rifle he wanted. I offered to use my permit since he didn't have one. But he decided not to buy the rifle. My question is: Did I risk violating the straw buyer law and being subject to jail time -- even as a federal offense?

Answer: Perhaps. And it depends if the seller was a FFL dealer or an individual. A firearms straw buyer is a person who is legally qualified and does purchase a firearm but intends to turn over possession to a person who is not legally qualified. Without a permit, your friend isn't qualified.

This would be unlawful if buying a firearm from a FFL dealer. Question #11a of the ATF Form 4473 (so called "yellow form" a buyer completes when purchasing a firearm from an FFL) states: "Are you the actual transferee/buyer of the firearm(s)..."? If you are buying the firearm for your friend, you may well be in violation of federal law by making a false statement to this question. This is a felony and carries with it a maximum penalty of 5 years in jail and a $250,000 fine.

The better way is for your friend is to give the FFL dealer a deposit or pay in full. Have the dealer hold the firearm while your friend obtains his permit.

If the seller is not a FFL dealer, the purchase by you may be lawful since there is no Form 4473 or statement required. Show the seller your long gun permit. Register the firearm in your name at HPD within 5 days. You must maintain actual possession of the firearm. When your friend obtains his permit, you can then transfer the firearm. But this is a hassle. Much easier just to give the seller a down payment and have your friend complete the sale and transfer after he gets his permit.

If you are a FFL, you cannot allow a straw buyer purchase. Best to have the buyer make a deposit and transfer the firearm after the 14-day requirement. If you are a private seller, it is still best to take deposit and wait out the 14 days. An interim private sale may not be illegal under Hawaii law, but your buyer must register the gun in his name within 5 days and you must send in the notice of transfer within 48 hours.

Added note: As a seller, it may be best to tell your buyer the deposit is non-refundable, since you will be taking the long gun off the gun show table and giving up opportunity to sell it to a qualified buyer if the sale falls through after the show.
